Policemen given electric bike for Cirencester patch

By Jenni Silver

BOBBIES on the beat in Cirencester have been told to get on their bikes this week after they were given a new electric cycle.

The rechargeable Powerbike was donated to the force earlier this month and has meant local Police Community Support Officers can become a more visible force in local communities.

PCSO Clive Wilkes said: "I have been able to get out to the villages more. We are not just whistling through a village in a car, we can be out more and be seen.

"There was a recent incident in the Abbey Grounds and I was up at Kingshill - I was there in minutes."
